Living to . . .

The prospect of our chance to have the education that others before us have had no chance to have. Our days here are numbered and as the generation of man-power to come, we have a chance to get a trade and get to know that trade as well as we can before our year or two years are up.

The teachers we have are striving to get us to listen, learn and understand all that they have been taught to teach us. It is up to us as students to understand all that our teachers wish us to know.

Farm Management

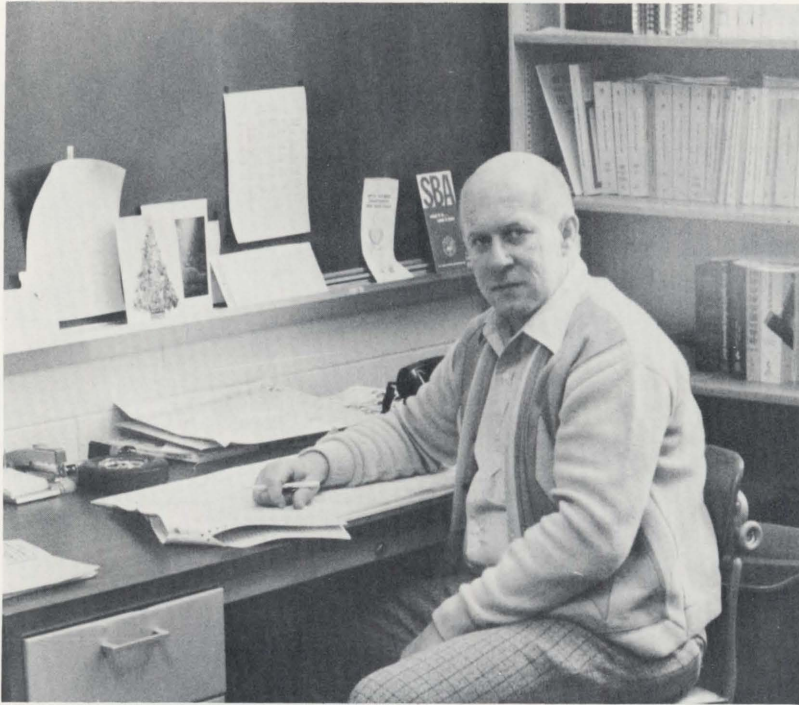

Verne Spengler, Ed Sisler, Don Johnsen, Harry Oen, Coordinators Esther Mattson, Secretary

The Minnesota Vocational Agriculture Farm Management Program is available to all Minnesota farmers through a local Vocational Agricultural Instructor. The Annual Analysis Program supplies the farmer with a computerized depreciation schedule and a very complete enterprises analysis of his or her farming operation. In addition, the farmer works with a Farm Management Instructor who teaches basic accounting procedures and helps individuals to budget, interpret his or her analysis, plan operations, and credit needs. The Ag Man also helps the farmer to keep up with the latest agricultural developments.

The program has grown rapidly. Farmers' Credit sources and Agribusinessmen enthusiastically endorse it. This year, there are 1,000 farmers in Northwestern Minnesota participating in the program and 5,000 enrolled in the whole state of Minnesota. The program now extends into North Dakota, Alaska, Oregon, Connecticut, Nebraska, Washington, Wisconsin, South Dakota, Iowa and Idaho.

To enroll, contact your local Vocational Agriculture instructor. If your school does not have a Vo-Ag department, contact the Vo-Ag coordinator at the Area Vocational Technical Institute. Any farmers in Minnesota may enroll. A fee is charged to cover the cost of preparing the analysis report. The present fee is $40 per record.

Small Business Management

Don Jonson, Coordinator

The Small Business Management Program brings the benefits of instruction in business management to small business operators and their families. The main purpose of the program is to assist business operators in achieving their business and family goals through the improved management, organization, and operation of their business.

Business record analysis is a vital part of the program. Up-to-date records are kept of all business transactions and important family expenditures. At the close of each business year the record is analyzed to determine the strengths and weaknesses of the business.

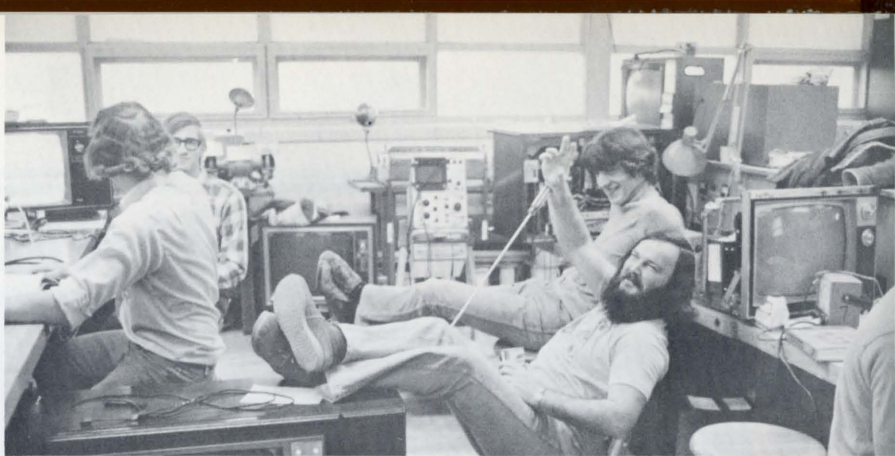

Instruction includes monthly class sessions held at the AVTI and individual instruction by the instructor at each business. During these visits the business family and instructor can study specific questions and problems pertaining to the individual business. At-the-business instruction is planned and scheduled in advance by the business operator and instructor.

Using applied business management principles, instructors discover with the enrollees the strengths and weaknesses of their businesses. Through skills gained in this program, the weak points can then be minimized, allowing the business operator to make progress towards his-her established goals.

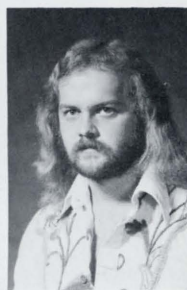

Benefit cost analysis showed that for each dollar the individual enrolled in a small business management education program incurred in direct and opportunity costs there was a return of Added Net Profit in 1974 of $12.08, and in 1975 a return of $11.43.

flying is fun

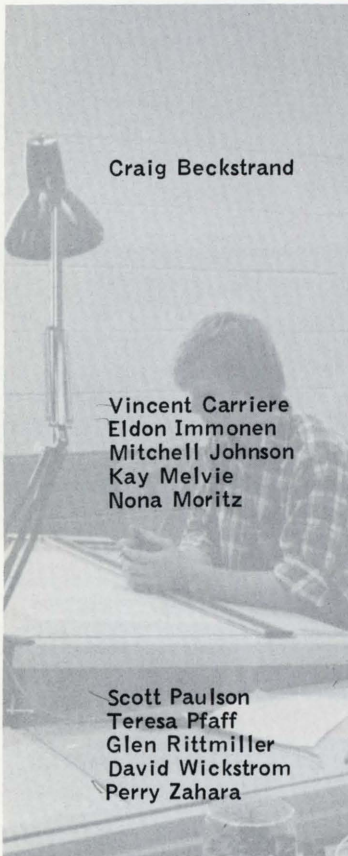

The students in Aviation Mechanics are trained for repair in aircraft electrical systems, utility systems, hydraulics, fuel injection, inspection and troubleshooting, engine overhaul, propellers, turbo jets, turbo prop engines, and all other parts of airplanes.

The Aviation Mechanics department has excellent facilities at the airport. The building complex includes one shop for engine overhaul, an engine test cell, an electrical and engine accessory shop, two large hangars for air frame and power plant maintenance, and a classroom and office addition. The school presently owns nine aircraft, including helicopters, jet aircraft, and fixed wing types. Since the school is located right on the airport the students get direct exposure to modern aircraft as they operate from the field.

We will again strive to understand what it is we are being taught.
