Troubleshooting Shockwave Flash (SWF) Files

In order to view .swf files you will need to install a 3rd party program that is designed to open this particular file type. The operating system you are using will determine which program you will need to download to view these files.

For Windows (PC) users:

Go to http://www.swffileplayer.com/ and follow the instructions on the page to download the player and open .swf files.

For Mac users:

Go to https://mac.eltima.com/swf-player.html and follow the instructions 'How to play SWF' on Mac' to download the player and open the .swf files.
